Portfolio Managers Now Receive The Energy Report and The Gold Report Unique Content via Bloomberg and Thomson Reuters

San Francisco, Feb 2: Starting in January, 2012, Streetwise Reports' research and in-depth interviews with energy and junior mining industry experts are now distributed across the Bloomberg and Thomson Reuters professional investor platforms. Bloomberg boasts some 340,000 professional investor subscribers, and Thomson Reuters distributes to portfolio managers through some 180,000 desktops worldwide. Subscribers to these services can view Streetwise Reports' research using the terms "Streetwise Reports" and "STWR" respectively.

"The fact that Bloomberg and Thomson Reuters have chosen to deliver our original content to the buy-side is a testimonial to the quality, credibility and value of our work," says Streetwise Reports President Karen Roche. "This will add to our ability to reach qualified investors with timely insights from our contributors and sponsors."

About us: Streetwise Reports is the publisher of The Gold Report, The Energy Report and The Critical Metals Report, free investment newsletters and websites that research and interview leading industry analysts and experts to provide investors timely macro-economic and company specific investing information.
